Over the years, we have seen an increase in substance use, misuse, and abuse among today's youth. Trends in teens vaping and ingesting edibles, opioids, and products laced with fentanyl are on the rise. Parents and educators who have students in grades 4-12 will benefit from staying up to date on the latest drug trends and increasing their fentanyl awareness. Learn how these trends affect the body physically and mentally, as well as how to recognize the signs of substance misuse among teens.

Presenter Jana Jansson is a Certified Life Coach (CLC), Licensed Chemical Dependency Counselor Intern (LCD-I), Trauma Healing Apprentice and Advanced Certified Prevention Specialist (ACPS).
